Global Collaboration Conference in Toronto
24th October 2007

On the 24th October Anne O'Neill travelled to Toronto for the 8th International Academy of Collaborative Professionals (IACP) Conference. Anne had been awarded a partial scholarship by the IACP in recognition of her contribution to the development of collaboration in Ireland. Fifteen countries were represented and over 600 professionals attended. It provided participants with an opportunity to meet with and be trained by some of the leading family practitioners in the USA and Canada. In addition, the conference presented huge networking opportunities and since collaboration is not bound by any jurisdictional requirements (ie can be practised anywhere) such networking has a serious purpose especially as Ireland become more and more multi-cultural. Delegates expressed enormous interest in the Cork, 2008 conference and we anticipate a large attendance (2nd European Collaborative Conference, Cork, Fota Island, 1-4th May 2008).
